

REDUCING RISKS TO COLLECTIONS 2006

ICCROM and the Canadian Conservation Institute are pleased to announce the 2006 session of the international course on "Reducing Risks to Collections".

The purpose of the course is to discuss and practice the risk management approach to the management of cultural property.

The course will take place in Ottawa, Canada, from 16 to 27 October 2006 (two weeks).

It is designed for collection managers, curators, registrars, conservators, and also directors of small to medium size museums, galleries, and archives, from all regions of the world. The course will also interest educators and professionals who teach collection management and preventive conservation, in either an academic or a vocational environment.

The application deadline is 28 February 2006.

A brief description of the course and full information on the application process is available at <http://www.iccrom.org/eng/training/events/2006-2007/PCC.htm>
